Pre-Teaching & Teaching Candidate Handbook Clinical Experience: Phases 1& 2 of 3

1. Introduction Overview

Teaching is a wonderful privilege! It is a profession that is not learned overnight, or through one pre-clinical experience. Great teaching develops over time and is supported by the knowledge of master teachers willing to share their expertise with those that are just beginning their professional career. Just as doctors participate in practicum experiences, field placement experience is most beneficial when guided by a master teacher.

We recognize our Cooperating Teachers, Schools and Principals that readily open their door to Detroit Mercy Teacher Education Candidates. Detroit Mercy knows that the partnership it has with schools in the region are a critical component of its program. The Detroit Mercy Teacher Education Program benefits from the surrounding school districts continued support and collaboration.

This handbook is meant to meet the needs of Pre-Teacher candidates, Teacher Candidates, Cooperating Teachers, Host School Administration, and University Staff and instructors providing all stakeholders an awareness of the components of the Detroit Mercy Teacher Education Program. The information includes a general timeline of expectations related to the Clinical Experiences and the documentation required by the Teacher Education Program at the University of Detroit Mercy. This handbook is subject to change to meet State compliance standards and University program needs.

Detroit Mercy welcomes feedback regarding its Teacher Education Program. All correspondence is immediately addressed in a professional manner. If you should have any issues, please do not hesitate to contact us as soon as possible.

Teacher Education at the University of Detroit Mercy

Department of Education Programs prepare effective and responsible professionals who have a commitment to the art and science of teaching so all learn. Our focus is on developing ethical, caring, value-directed professionals who possess a commitment to and the skill for meeting the challenges of urban society and exemplifying the tenets of social justice.

Mission of the Education Department

The Education Department cultivates teachers and leaders who are ethical, scholarly, reflective, and courageous.

Vision of the Education Department

The Education Department will be recognized as a premier program serving a diverse student population in the Great Lakes region.

To implement the Department of Education mission and vision, Education Programs are purposefully designed to develop educators who:

- are ethical, value driven persons;
- possess a scholarly mastery of subject matter;
- recognize that all can learn; and
- engage students in an interactive, dynamic process of learning.

This mission is based upon a vision of teacher as scholar, teacher as an inquiring educator, and teacher as moral agent. The Detroit Mercy Educator Code of Professional Ethics details this mission more fully.

Conceptual Framework of the Education Department ²

The Department's Mission is implemented through its Conceptual Framework, which addresses the ethical behaviors for demonstrating how a teacher as scholar, inquirer and moral agent interacts as a member of a profession with three audiences of school-based practice -- students, parents, and school systems. Accordingly, the Conceptual Framework describes the following dimensions of the role of the educator:

A scholar who uses the research-knowledge base for teaching integrated with the liberal arts and science disciplines;

An inquirer who is skilled in decision-making and in ethical, critical, and reflective thinking; and

A moral agent whose values reflect those of Detroit Mercy and the Department of Education's Professional Code of Ethics.

To prepare educators who are competent in these three dimensions of the educator's role, Detroit Mercy education programs foster the development of knowledge, skills, and attitudes that are necessary for successful teaching. Therefore, the curriculum in each program develops:

A scholar who:

- Competently practices the art of teaching using knowledge gained from a diverse research base
- Designs instruction that provides meaningful content through disciplinary and interdisciplinary approaches
- Bases instruction on principles of the cognitive, social, and emotional development of students
- Creates instruction to meet students' diverse learning styles
- Integrates the needs of students and the community with curricular and content goals
- Uses appropriate assessment strategies to promote students' cognitive, social and emotional growth
- Conducts research within the teaching/learning environment and shares findings with other practitioner

An inquirer who:

- Develops critical, reflective, and analytical thinking to design meaningful instruction for students
- Uses creative and ethical thinking in decision-making
- Applies metacognitive thought to analyze teaching practice
- Promotes students' growth in critical and analytic thinking as well as problem-solving
- Uses instructional strategies along with appropriate educational technology to create a classroom atmosphere of inquiry and collaboration
- Critically examines his/her own practice to assess competence
- Continuously develops his/her repertoire of professional knowledge and skills

A moral agent who:

- Commits his/her efforts to promoting social justice in urban society
- Develops his/her own ethical reasoning
- Follows the ethical standards of professional teaching
- Incorporates value, moral, and character education into instruction
- Creates a supportive network advocating for students with all stakeholders in the educational enterprise
- Engages imagination and dialog to work for a better world

To this end, Detroit Mercy students integrate the Detroit Mercy Educator Code of Professional Ethics into professional practice and life. This document is reproduced on the following pages:

2. The creation of a Conceptual Framework with Educator Code of Professional Ethics for the Education Department was initiated in 1990 as a joint effort between faculty and students, led by Professor Joan Wilder. In 1994, a document was produced, and that document continues to be modified by current faculty and students. The Conceptual Framework was expanded by faculty in 1996 to incorporate specific statements of goals to provide further guidelines for faculty and students. These goal statements reflected the faculty's commitment to Michigan's Entry Level Standards for Beginning Teachers (1993), and the Interstate New Teacher Assessment and Support Council (INTASC, 1992) standards. In 1997, additional work by faculty expanded the theoretical component of the Conceptual Framework. Faculty continue to assess this framework and adapt programs as state standards evolve to guide teaching so all learn.

The original document was composed by individuals from many different ethnic groups, age groups, and geographic locations, and thus reflected the heterogeneity of the metropolitan Detroit area. As they conceptualized the document, it was to be a product of a diverse group that spoke equally to the common ground shared by members of the University community and to the uniqueness and individuality of each community member. The Conceptual Framework continues to reflect such diversity.

2. DETROIT MERCY Educator Code of Professional Ethics

As Educators, we realize the trust placed in us by the community—the preparing of its children for their future place in society. We are awed by the magnitude of this responsibility and wholeheartedly accept its challenges because we believe that all children can learn.

This Code of Ethics is our pledge to the community that we will vigilantly pursue the highest standards of performance from our professional ranks; that we will carefully nurture the students entrusted to our care; and that we will make an effort to interact with all members of society, who like educators, are concerned with the rights and well-being of our young people.

The goal of an Educator is to inspire students toward excellence while promoting learning as a lifelong process. The Educator has the responsibility of teaching this nation's greatest natural resource. Therefore, it is imperative that the Educator teaches and believes in the dignity and integrity of all students. The Educator needs to be of good moral character and model the appropriate social skills and values. The Educator accepts the responsibility to adhere to the highest ethical standards.

Regarding Professional Competency, the Educator shall

- Possess a mastery of academic content areas and a mastery of instructional skills to practice the art of teaching.
- Strive to achieve and maintain the highest degree of professional competency and will always uphold the honor, dignity and ethical standards of their profession.
- Exert every effort to raise professional standards, to promote a climate that encourages the true exercise of reflective teaching, professional judgment and to foster collaborative relationships among colleagues, parents and community.
- Recognize the need for continuing professional and educational development, and pursue opportunities to acquire new skills, develop new techniques, and become informed of new research methods, and educational technology.
- Make every effort not to allow personal problems or conflicts to interfere with professional effectiveness.
- Maintain professional relationship with students, parents, school personnel, and the community.
- Respect each person with whom he/she is working, and deal justly and impartially with each regardless of his/her physical, mental, emotional, political, economic, social, cultural, racial characteristics or sexual and religious preferences.
- Be committed to the holistic, integrative development of youth including caring for special needs children, teaching critical, creative and ethical thinking with a dedication to social justice.

Regarding Students, the Educator shall

- Base relationships on integrity and mutual trust; the Educator shall recognize and reflect a concern for student dignity.
- Not tolerate policies, procedures, or attitudes that impede student success.
- Strive to help each student realize his/her potential as a worthy and effective member of a democratic society by developing a personal code of democratic values.
- Work to stimulate the spirit of inquiry, the acquisition of knowledge and understanding, and the thoughtful formulation of worthy goals and moral character.
- Prepare students for full participation in a global, multicultural society by facilitating independent action and differing viewpoints.
- Respect students' right to privacy and confidentiality.
- Acknowledge his/her position as a role model for students.

Regarding Parents, the Educator shall

- Recognize the importance of parental support and seek to obtain this by establishing contact with parents.
- Communicate with parents about their child regarding progress and problems in a truthful and timely manner.
- Communicate to the parent's recommendations meeting the educational needs of their children.
- Respect the parent's right to privacy and confidentiality except in cases of abuse.
- Attempt to become aware of the student's home situation through encouraging and facilitating frequent and open communication between the home and school.

Regarding the School System, the Educator shall

- Become knowledgeable of the organization, philosophy, goals, objectives, and methodology of the school system for which he/she works.
- Recognize that an understanding of the goals, process, and legal requirements of the educational system is essential for an effective delivery of educational services.
- Be familiar with the curriculum, instructional materials, and teaching strategies of the school for which he/she works.
- Recognize the need to familiarize him or herself with the attitudes and expectations of the community.
- Actively engage in activities directed toward developing and improving the educational system.

Clinical Experience 1 & 2 in Brief

The Education Department, through various educational settings and situations, empowers our students to develop and embrace their teaching skills. These settings include traditional classrooms, along with online opportunities to work with children.

From the first course in Education through the capstone clinical experience, students learn to teach through a wide variety of clinical experiences developed in partnerships with public and private schools.

Teacher Education (Transition Point 2)

Students first experience a classroom during their EDU 4000/5001 course, Introduction to Education, during their freshman year. Students observe approved classroom settings in the local community. In Transition Point 2, students are required to complete 40 hours of observation, before applying to admission to Teacher Education.

Clinical Experience (Transition Point 3)

The Pre-Teacher Candidate experience is the second of three field components in the teacher education program. Each education student is partnered with a P-12 classroom teacher in a local school for a fifteen-week classroom commitment. Students commuting to the University can complete their pre-clinical experience in a school district close to their home. The Pre-Teacher Candidate are encouraged to seek diverse Clinical Experiences to enrich their professional growth. Course instructors distribute necessary information and forms to each Pre-Teacher Candidate during the first week of the semester. Students cannot obtain their Pre-Teacher Candidate course until they have been admitted into the Teacher Education Program. Successful completion of Pre-Teacher Candidate Clinical Experience is required before clinical experience.

- Elementary Education Pre-Teacher Candidates enroll in their Pre-Teacher Candidate course during the first semester after being admitted to the Teacher Education Program.
- Secondary Education Pre-Teacher Candidates enroll in their Pre-Teacher Candidate course within their major content area after being admitted to the Teacher Education Program.

Program Completion (Transition Point 4)

The Program Completion Clinical experience, in most cases, is the final semester of the University of Detroit Mercy Teacher Education Program. The primary purpose of Clinical experience is to create an opportunity to transfer theory of the teacher preparation program into real classroom and school environment experiences.

Many factors come into play when determining a student's placement such as major/minor content area, school districts with agreements, availability of tenured teachers, Teacher candidate's GPA, etc. The Teacher candidate will work closely with their assigned University Supervisor. The Teacher candidate cannot seek their Clinical experience placement. All Professional Education courses must be completed successfully and students must meet all eligibility requirements prior to approval for clinical experience.

2.1 Definition of Terms

Clinical Experience: previously known as Student Teaching

Cooperating Teacher: Classroom teacher who has agreed to assist and mentor a teacher education candidate during their Clinical Experiences. Classroom teachers who agree to supervise a teacher education candidate must meet the requirements as outlined in the Standard School District Agreement and should be recommended by their building principal or designee. The cooperating teacher meets the requirements as outlined in Detroit Mercy standards.

Dispositions: Professional dispositions address the Teacher Candidate's commitment to the students, the learning process and the profession. The Professional Education Faculty and staff expect candidates to exhibit these professional dispositions.

Diversity: There are six diversity requirements that all education students must meet prior to being recommended for certification through the State of Michigan: Urban/Rural, ESL, Exceptionalities, Gender, Socio-economic status, Race/Ethnicity.

Mandatory Pre-Clinical Experience Application Meeting: This meeting is held during the first week of classes in the semester, prior to Clinical Experience, in preparation for the Clinical Experience semester. Meeting dates and times will be posted. Detailed information will be provided at this meeting, regarding the clinical experiences application and related items that are required prior to Clinical experience.

Non-Urban: Any placement not in an urban setting (e.g., rural, suburban)

Placement: The placement is the assigned classroom where the teacher education candidate completes their field requirements.

Pre-or Teacher Candidate (P-TC): The P-TC follows a sequence of courses which prepare the P-TC for teaching. The P-TC is responsible for making sure they have chosen the right career path and are dedicated to building and instructing a classroom that functions for ALL learners.

Pre-or Teaching Candidate Clinical Experience (P-TCCE): This experience is offered in conjunction with teacher education methods courses. The P-TC is required to apply theories and ideas from the methods classes in a real classroom setting. The P-TCCE must be completed successfully prior to progressing to Transition Gateway 2, 3, 4, or 5.

Pre-or Teacher Candidate Evaluation:

- 1) Midterm Evaluation: completed approximately four to six weeks into the fifteen-week experience by the Cooperating Teacher to gauge the progress of the Pre-Teacher Candidate.
- 2) Final Evaluation: Summative assessment which consists of a rating scale and a narrative of the student's level of performance in the categories of the Professionalism and Pedagogy.

School District Agreement: Agreement between the University of Detroit Mercy and the schools' governance boards, specifies conditions for Clinical experience. All schools where Teacher candidates are placed must have a signed agreement with Detroit Mercy.

Transition Gateways: The University of Detroit Mercy professional education program is designed to provide candidates with a conceptual framework of professional practice that is concept and knowledge-driven, learner-centered, and promotes reflective practice, referred to as the Transition Gateways.

- 1) Transition Gateway 1 (TP1) documents the academic ability of Pre-Teacher Education candidates using ACT/SAT/MME scores, cumulative GPA during admission, and Disposition Assessment.
- 2) Transition Gateway 2 (TP2) is the foundation on which Clinical Experience (TP3) and Program Completion (TP4) is built. This gateway measures academic ability of incoming candidates using ACT/SAT/MME or PRE, cumulative GPA, and Introduction to Education (EDU 4000/5001) course grade, volunteer hours with P-12 children and Disposition Assessment, criminal background check, membership in professional organization, and the purchase and ongoing production of an electronic teaching portfolio.

- 3) Transition Gateway 3 (TP3) is a Clinical Experience that further develops the content knowledge learned in TP2. This gateway monitors and mentor's candidates to successfully complete all course work in the chosen major with a grade of "C" or above, maintain a GPA of 3.0 or above, achieve a passing score on the Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) in the area(s) of preparation, show continuous growth in P&PDI/I, and complete the Clinical Experience requirement. Candidates will also submit a clinical experience application one semester before Clinical Experience, clear a background check, and demonstrate membership in a Professional Organization for Teacher Education. The intended use of the TP3 is to record candidate progress and provide an opportunity for candidates to receive corrective feedback concerning their instructional practice to encourage reflection and growth.
- 4) Transition Gateway 4 is Program Completion (TP4) and measures a candidate's level of competency in six domains: planning skills, teaching skills, learning environment, assessment skills, professionalism, and communication skills using 6 key assessments: GPA, Electronic Portfolio (EP), Clinical Internship Cooperating Teacher Evaluation (CICTE), Clinical Internship Supervisor Evaluation (CISE), Disposition Assessment, and Embedded Teacher Research (ETR). The intended use of the TP4 is to record the progress of a candidate's development and provide an opportunity for the candidate to receive corrective feedback concerning his or her instructional practice to encourage reflection and growth.

Urban: any institution in and within the city proper

2.2 Attendance Policy

The Pre-or Teacher Candidate is responsible for adhering to the attendance policy at the school where they are participating in a Clinical Experience. In addition to the school policy students must also adhere to the attendance policy set by Detroit Mercy.

General attendance guidelines are below:

- Give adequate time for arrival on the first day of the experience, and all those thereafter.
- Make the Cooperating Teacher aware of any known schedule changes well in advance of any situation that will cause changes.

If the pre-or teacher candidate is ill and unable to be at school for the assigned day/time, call the Cooperating Teacher before school starts in the morning to let him/her know that you will not be in attendance. Do not use email to contact the Cooperating Teacher if you are going to be absent from your host school. The pre-or teacher candidate will need to make arrangements to make up the missed hours.

- Do not leave the school premises during your scheduled fieldwork time for any reason, unless course instructor and cooperating teacher approval has been given.
- The teacher education candidate should be prompt and appropriately dressed as defined the Detroit Mercy Education Department and host school Faculty Policy.
- Unexcused absences and/or late arrivals or the combination thereof, will be reason for possible dismissal from your Clinical Experience.
- The Pre-or Teacher candidate may change the day/time of their placement IF the Cooperating Teacher agrees to the change. All changes are to be recorded on the Pre-or Teacher Candidate Clinical Experience 1 and 2 Attendance Record.
- The Pre- or Teacher candidate is responsible for submitting the attendance record each visit to the host teacher for signature and verification.

Cooperating teachers are not responsible for the attendance form. It is the candidate's responsibility to make sure that all attendance is accurate and complete. Candidates are responsible for making sure the Cooperating Teacher initials and signatures on the attendance form and getting that form returned to the_course instructor.

2.3 Bloodborne Pathogens Training

Each Teacher Candidate is required to complete regular online training prior to entering the classroom. To keep the Teacher Candidate safe, the training module is designed to provide an awareness of Bloodborne Pathogens, common modes of their transmission, methods of prevention, and other pertinent information. This training is designed to meet the requirements of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA's) Bloodborne Pathogen Standard, 29 CFR 1910.1030. At the end of the training module the teacher candidate will take a quiz.

At the successful completion of the tutorial, there is a certificate that can be printed for the participation records.

2.4 Transition Gateways Conceptual Framework

The University of Detroit Mercy's Professional Education Program is designed to provide candidates with a conceptual framework of professional practice that is concept and knowledge-driven, learner-centered, and promotes reflective practice. A professional practice that is truly concept and knowledge-driven, learner-centered, and reflective is not readily acquired. Rather, it must be developed and refined through active reflection and inquiry over a lifetime. The Professional Education Program becomes the foundation for a professional career that will continue to evolve and mature.

2.5 Detroit Mercy Picture ID

Teacher candidates are to wear their Detroit Mercy picture ID every day during their field or clinical experiences.

2.6 Confidentiality

It is important to maintain the confidentiality of students and staff always. This carries over to any written work you create. Should you wish to discuss a specific situation involving a student/staff member:

Create a pseudonym for the person in writing. For example, “Johnny was fully engaged in the learning task.” The name is set apart using italics. Include a statement somewhere in your document which indicates that names have been changed to protect their identity.

Photographs should not be taken without permission. Check with the Cooperating Teacher, as many schools already have a policy in place for photographs used for educational purposes.

Social media identities, logon ID’s and user names should not reference a position as a Pre-or Teacher Candidate or the school in which you are working. Do not create blogs or social media sites for the specific purpose of providing commentary on the classroom, or related experiences.

2.7 Criminal Conviction Issues

If a Pre-or Teacher Candidate has any legal issue(s) (besides traffic violations such as speeding), the Teacher Candidate must provide a Judgment of Sentence (if the legal issue is still pending or the Candidate is on probation) and/or a Register of Action when the case is closed to the Director of Credentialing.

If a Pre-or Teacher Candidate has been charged but is pending a court hearing the Candidate has two business days to report the charge to the Director of Credentialing.

2.8 Dispositions

In addition to content knowledge and pedagogy, dispositions is the third component we prepare teacher candidates to positively impact student learning as effective teachers.

As Candidates move through the Teacher Education Program, certification and K-12 employment, it is important that candidates demonstrate professional attributes needed for success in the teaching profession. The professional education faculty and staff believe that there are specific dispositions that Detroit Mercy Teacher Candidates must possess if they are to become exemplary educators. Dispositions are reflected in the commitments and virtues that influence behavior toward students, families, colleagues and communities and deeply affect student learning and development as well as the educator's own professional growth.

2.9 Diversity Requirements

All candidates in the teacher education program at University of Detroit Mercy are expected to participate in learning situations and Clinical Experiences representing a wide range of diverse settings. To be recommended for certification, each candidate must complete their Clinical Experiences in such a way as to ensure that all the categories listed below are met. Documentation for each of the Clinical Experience criteria will be placed in the Teacher Education Candidate Portfolio. This information will be reviewed at the time of fieldwork assignments for placement purposes. Professional Education courses within the teacher preparation program will prepare Teacher Candidates for dealing effectively with the various field placement types identified below, as well as with other important aspects of diversity such as family structure.

- Race/Ethnicity - Candidates will participate in a classroom setting with 20% or more non-white students as the basic classroom population.
- Socio-economic Status - Candidates will participate in a classroom in a school that has a minimum of 20% of students registered for free/reduced lunch.
- Gender - Candidates are expected to participate in a classroom setting where both male and female students are learners.
- Exceptionalities - Candidates will participate in a classroom that is defined as inclusive. The classroom will include students identified as having a physical, mental, or emotional exceptionality, a speech/communication disorder, or as gifted or talented.
- English Second Language - Candidates will participate in a classroom in a district that includes an ESL student population.
- K-12 Non-Urban School Setting - Candidates will participate in a classroom in a non-urban setting.
- K-12 Urban School Setting - Candidates will participate in a classroom in a urban setting.

All candidates in the teacher education program at the University Detroit Mercy are expected to participate in learning situations and Clinical Experiences representing a wide range of diverse settings. To be recommended for certification, each candidate must complete their Clinical Experiences in such a way as to ensure that all the categories are met. A Teacher Candidate may meet multiple diversity requirements listed above in a single classroom during their clinical experience. Prior to visiting a classroom, a Pre-or Teacher Candidate will provide a Detroit Mercy Clinical Experience Letter of Introduction. Course instructors will make every attempt to assist with diversity requirements during the Candidate's Clinical Experience. It is recommended that diversity requirements are fulfilled prior to Clinical experience.

Note: You must observe at least 30 hours in the same school to fulfill any diversity category. It is possible for one 30-hour experience to fulfill 6 out of the 7 categories. Urban Setting and Non-Urban Setting will need to be fulfilled in different geographic areas.

2.10 Dress Code

During all Clinical Experiences, all Pre-or Teacher Candidates are expected to be well-groomed and are to dress professionally. Professional dress for educators is typically defined as business casual. The Pre-or Teacher Candidate is representing Detroit Mercy and responsible for showing respect for students, school district, and the University by their professional dress and professional language. Showing respect for students, colleagues, students' parents, and the Education profession is reflected in a Pre-or Teacher Candidate's appearance and language.

2.10.1 Successful Teacher Candidates:

- Show others that they care about their profession in what they wear by pressing clothing, and having coordinated outfits that fit appropriately.
- An easy choice for dressing comfortably and professionally as a teacher, is to choose a pair of clean tan/navy/black dress pants/slacks, a coordinating shirt/blouse, and comfortable dress shoes (suggested, not required).
- Choose skirts and dresses that fall to the knee in length (suggested, not required).
- Wear dress or polo shirts that are tucked in.
- Promote a great learning environment by not distracting students with clothing, dress choices, and accessories. This includes removing piercings of the body and face, and covering up visible tattoos.
- Ultimately students, parents and colleagues do make assumptions and judgements about how much an educator cares about being a teacher by how the educator cares for what they wear, and the way they take care of themselves in appearance.

2.11 Social Media

As a Pre-or Teacher Candidate, you are now entering the professional field of education. Part of that responsibility includes adjusting some practices from “college student” to “teacher” appropriate. Look at various aspects of life with a new set of eyes – those of a teacher, Principal, parent or potential employer.

It is strongly recommended that you remove pictures and posts which do not represent the professional educator you are becoming. Teacher Candidates have a very visible presence in a conservative field. Represent yourself as an upstanding member of this profession. When removing pictures and posts be sure to include text messaging, instant messaging, email, blogs, chat rooms, video-sharing Web sites, editorial comments posted on the Internet, and social network sites such as Facebook, LinkedIn, Twitter, Tumblr, Google+, Flickr, and YouTube. This also includes photos your friends have of you on their own pages, as everything is linked and easy to navigate.

Two other socially visible areas needing to be updated are your cell phone messages and email address user name. Do callers hear loud music and a very “informal” greeting? Is your email address a business-like user name, or one which might raise eye-brows?

As a Pre- or Teacher Candidate, you are an educator and a role model for the students in your classroom. There may be times you are working in a classroom in which the Cooperating Teacher utilizes social media for instructional purposes. School Districts generally have an electronic media policy available to read. Should you wish to use electronic media with a lesson you are giving, you are required to obtain permission from the Cooperating Teacher prior to teaching the lesson.

5.4 Expectations of Pre-or Teacher Candidates.

Pre-or Teaching candidates are afforded the opportunity to experience a classroom setting and observe classroom teachers throughout their pre-service placement. The purpose of the setting is to gain experience working with individual students and small groups of students. Pre-or Teacher candidates should experience planning, teaching and evaluation of activities by actively participating in learning process with students and the cooperating teacher. It is also beneficial for Pre-or Teaching candidates to experience some of the other aspects of teaching such as preparing bulletin boards, developing teaching materials, correcting papers with supervision, evaluating projects with supervision, and attending special functions. Finally, Pre-or Teaching candidates should develop an awareness of practices used by experienced classroom teachers concerning classroom management and the maintenance of a positive classroom learning environment.

The recent changes to P-12 education in Michigan not only affect those currently teaching, but also affect those seeking a career in education. The state of Michigan is placing a stronger emphasis on Teacher Candidates spending greater amounts of time in the field they wish to teach. In addition, Cooperating Teachers are being held to higher accountability measures for all learning that occurs within their classroom. Considering these somewhat competing interests, the Cooperating Teacher has the authority to determine the level of involvement a Teacher Candidate has within a classroom. We trust the Cooperating Teacher will value their commitment to the Teacher Candidate's success and together they will outline their individual expectations for the experience. We encourage frequent meetings or conferences be arranged to ensure open lines of communication, as this is a significant component of a successful clinical experience.

When it is determined that the pre-or teacher candidate is capable of classroom leadership, we encourage the cooperating teacher to require the pre-or teacher candidate to plan a minimum of two lessons. A cooperating teacher is free to use their professional judgement on what they believe the pre-or teacher candidate is proficient in doing. A cooperating teacher may choose to team teach with their pre-or teacher candidate, or have the student work with small group instruction. Any lesson plan that is built for enrichment activity facilitated by a pre-or teacher candidate must be received by the cooperating teacher in advance. Please use your professional judgment as to what you want your pre-or teacher candidate to work on in your classroom. Whether the pre-or teacher candidate conducts enrichment activities a small or large group, Detroit Mercy seeks feedback on how the student and the teacher education program are doing. In weeks 6-8 of clinical experience, and again in the weeks 13-15, the cooperating teacher will receive an electronic evaluation form (i.e., mid-term evaluation, final evaluation) from the Detroit Mercy's Department of Education to evaluate the pre-or teacher candidate's performance in your classroom.

Any lesson that a pre-or teacher candidate presents should not be a movie, video or pre-programmed CD/DVD. A pre-or teacher candidate may use classroom approved video clips, teacher sanctioned materials, PowerPoint/Prezis, or any strategies or educational tools that supplement their enrichment activities aligned to pertinent curriculum standards.

Should a teacher find that their pre-or teacher candidate is not capable in handling their placement the cooperating teacher should immediately contact the course instructor. It is imperative that the pre-or teacher candidate be actively engaged in the classroom.
